Course coordinator: Dr. Dima Malahmeh

Course Description

Three hours a week are dedicated to teaching this course. This course is tailored to develop the students' abilities to read, analyze and criticize various long texts. Students will practice some traditional reading skills such as skimming and scanning. Various topics will be discussed and analysed such as: the use of language by males and females, doodles, money is the only home, the good picnic guide, physical fitness, burglary, and how to write a winning résumé, among other practical topics related to everyday life.

Students will be asked to identify the writer's stance or attitude towards the content of each passage they read. In addition to that, they are highly encouraged to express their opinions on and attitudes towards the topics discussed in the classroom. Moreover, they are highly motivated to spark their imagination to discuss and write about some topics they read such as imagining they are writing a résumé and to apply the techniques they learn on how to write a successful résumé.

Students are highly encouraged to interact with each other in some activities which motivate group-work. This will develop their skills to listen to each other and instigate their tendency to negotiate and persuade others of their viewpoints.

In addition to that, there will be a library visit during which students will learn how to search and find books in the library. In addition to that, you will learn how to search online databases such as EBSCO, Science Direct, etc.

2nd Semester 2014/2015

2. Coming late to lectures will not be tolerated. If a student comes to class once attendance has been taken, he/she is allowed to attend, but will be considered absent.
3. Students should independently do their homework, presentations and projects. Any work submitted or presented must be their own work. Any reliance on previous students' work is considered cheating.
4. Plagiarism or stealing other people's ideas or viewpoints and claiming that they are your own without acknowledging them is considered a serious misdemeanor. Depending on plagiarism will result in course failure.
5. Participation is vital in classrooms. It is not only coming to class; it also requires preparing the material in advance, doing the required homework, and being active in the classroom, etc.
6. Make-up exams will be offered for valid reasons if only they are accepted by the Dean.

Protection of Copyright

Documentation and Academic Honesty

Students are expected to complete all homework, papers and projects independently (unless otherwise specified); any work must be yours and yours alone. Working together for anything other than data collection, relying on students' work from previous semesters and/or plagiarizing published research is considered cheating.

2. Protection of Copyright

Publications in all forms require permission from the copyright owner in advance. You are not allowed to reproduce, store in a retrieval system, or transmit, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior permission of the publisher or a license from the Copyright Licensing Agency Limited. (www.cla.co.uk).

Students are expected to respect and uphold the standards of honesty in all their activities. Any cheating or plagiarism will result in disciplinary action to be determined by the instructor based on the severity and nature of the offense.

3. Avoiding Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a serious academic offense that will result in your failing the course.

Learning notes by heart and repeating the information word by word in the exam is a type of plagiarism.

Documentation Style (with illustrative examples)

Note: it is usual to italicize book titles; however, if you are not able to do this, you should underline them instead.

The APA citation style illustrated below refers to the rules and conventions applied by the American Psychological Association for documenting sources used by researchers in their writing. It necessitates using both in-text and a reference list. It is widely used in psychology, education, business and the social sciences.

The information below is taken from Lipson's (2011) guide book to citation styles.
